No	No

BACKGROUND/JUSTIFICATION:

The City of Dayton approached the City of Otsego requesting a water connection for emergency purposes only. Currently, the portion of the City of Dayton known as the "historic village" lacks the ability to provide standard fire protection typical to urban areas with municipal services. The City Council of Otsego wanted assurances that an interconnection of the two public water systems in no way compromises the City of Otsego's ability to provide service to its users. The report was completed in accordance to the agreement signed by both Cities and costs to complete will be reimbursed to the City of Otsego by the City of Dayton.

The final scope of the report also included reviewing the interconnections resultant flow and pressure at a strategic location within the City of Dayton, estimated costs for alternative piping, exhibits depicting location of the interconnection and corresponding required easements and any other potential issues or regulations that may need to be resolved or permitted.
